DO WE HAVE A HEAVENLY MOTHER

This has been an ongoing question for as long as I can remember. Why wouldn't we have a heavenly mother? The JROCCC churches have been totally silent on this subject, WHY?

Who kept the identity of the OUR HEAVENLY MOTHER out of the Bible and out of the JROCCCC'S church teachings.

Why wouldn't the Triune God be the: FATHER, SON AND THE MOTHER?

The answer is that the JROCCC has be lying to us all along.

WHO CREATED THE FALSE JROCCC RELIGIOUS MOVEMENT?

I know thy works, and tribulation, and poverty, (but thou art rich) and I know the blasphemy of them which say they are Judeans, and are not, but are the synagogue of Satan. (Revelation 2:9 KJV)

The Khazars converted to Rabbinic Judaism in the 8th century and have stolen the identity of the True Tribes of Jacob-Israel, the white race. The Khazars are imposters and are actully Edomite Jews according to their own writings. Approximately 94% of Jews today are Khazars. The word "Jew" was created a couple hundred of years ago and inserted into the Bible to steal the identity of the true Israelites, the white race. See this post for more info.

It turns out that it was the Edomites where were behind the formation of the JROCCC and the creation of the Bibles and you know ho horribly the Middle East woman are treated. If you dig into that subject far enough back you will learn that WOMAN WERE ONCE THE RULERS of our world and that MEN WERE CREATED TO GET THE JOBS DONE ON BEHALF OF THE WOMAN. THEY WERE TEAM PLAYERS.

EDOMITES USE WOMAN AS SLAVES AND ABUSE THEIR AUTHORITITY OVER THEM.

It turns out that woman were given intuition or both right brain and left-brain capacities. Some people call it a second sense. She is able to think both logically and intuitively at the same time

Which means that she had an ability to reason a situation out more clearly because she used both sides of her brain.

The simplified "left brain/right brain" model

- Right brain: Traditionally linked to intuition, creativity, imagination, and emotional responses.
- Left brain: Traditionally linked to logic, analysis, and linear thinking.

The modern, more integrated view

- Intuition is a network phenomenon: Intuition isn't located in one place; it involves intricate networks across the entire brain, including regions like the amygdala, insula, and ventromedial prefrontal cortex.
- Emotional and logical components: Intuition is deeply connected to emotions and bodily sensations, which are integrated by the brain. The brain uses prior experiences to make rapid associations, which can trigger a physical response, like a gut feeling.
- Both sides work together: Logic and intuition are not mutually exclusive. The left brain processes data, and the right brain processes it holistically, but they must work together to produce what we experience as intuition.
- Intuition as a pathway to new ideas: The right brain's role in holistic thinking can lead to insights, while the left brain can help to structure and analyze those insights.
- "Gut feelings" are physical responses: Intuitive feelings often manifest as physical sensations in the body, a response that is triggered by the brain's unconscious processing of information and then communicated to the body via the gut-brain axis and the vagus nerve.

Edomites and most hybrid races use their left brain thinking and will not recognize woman as equal partners.

That is who and why OUR HEAVENLY MOTHER WAS TAKEN OUT OF THE BIBLE OR TURNED INTO THE HOLY GHOST INSTEAD.

HEAVENLY MOTHER ACCORDING TO WHAT THE MORMONS TEACH

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints teaches that all human beings, both men and women, are beloved spirit children of Heavenly Parents, who are our Heavenly Father and a Heavenly Mother.

This understanding is deeply rooted in the teachings of scripture and the Hebrew Prophets about the nature of God, our relationship to the Divine, and the divine potential of men and women.

The existence of a Heavenly Mother is a belief unique to and cherished by Latter-day Saints. Although there is no written record of a formal revelation to Joseph Smith concerning this doctrine, some of the early Latter-day Saint women recalled that he had personally taught them about the existence of a Heavenly Mother.

The first published references to this point of doctrine appeared in 1844, shortly after the death of Joseph Smith, in the writings of his close associates.

The most notable expression of this idea is found in a poem by Eliza R. Snow entitled:

"My Father in Heaven," which is now the hymn:
"O My Father."

This text declares:

"Are you alone in your dwelling? / No, truth tells me, / Reason within me confirms that I have a mother too."

Subsequently, Church leaders affirmed the existence of a Heavenly Mother.

In 1909, the First Presidency taught that:

"All men and women are in the likeness of a universal Father and Mother and are literally sons and daughters of the Godhead."

Susa Young Gates, a prominent figure in the Church, wrote in 1920 that the visions and teachings of Joseph Smith revealed the truth that:

"The Divine Mother [stands] beside the Divine Father." And, in "The Family: A Proclamation to the World," published in 1995, the First Presidency and the Quorum of the Twelve Apostles declared:

"Each [of us] is a beloved spirit son or daughter of heavenly parents and, as such, each has a divine nature and destiny."

The prophets taught that our heavenly parents work together for the salvation of humankind.

Mr. Russell Ballard, of the Quorum of the Twelve Apostles, taught:

“We are part of a divine plan devised by loving heavenly parents.” “We forget that we have a Heavenly Father and Mother who probably care more about us than our earthly parents, and that influences from beyond are continually working to help us when we do all we can.”

Latter-day Saints worship their Heavenly Father, in the name of Christ, and do not pray to their Heavenly Mother. In this, they follow the pattern established by Jesus Christ, who taught his disciples that they should always pray to the Father in his name.

Latter-day Saints learn to pray to their Heavenly Father, but, as Gordon B. Hinckley said, “The fact that we do not pray to our Heavenly Mother does not diminish or degrade her in any way.” “Indeed, as Rudger Clawson wrote, ‘We honor woman when we recognize divinity in her eternal prototype.’

Just as with many other gospel truths, our current knowledge of our Heavenly Mother is limited; nevertheless, we have enough knowledge to be aware of the sacredness of this doctrine and to understand the divine pattern established for us as children of heavenly parents.

Latter-day Saints believe this pattern is expressed in Paul’s statement:

‘In the Lord, woman is not independent of man, nor is man independent of woman.’

Man and woman cannot be exalted without each other.” Just as we have a Heavenly Father, we have a Heavenly Mother, and as Dallin H. Oaks of the Quorum of the Twelve Apostles said, “Our theology begins with heavenly parents." He added, "Our highest aspiration is to be like them."
